From: GOVERNING Daily
To: Carlton, M.Catherine
Subject: Law and the New Order of DAs Redefining Justice
Date: Tuesday, April 04, 2017 6:30:19 AM

View Newsletter in Browser

Today's Government News

Subscribe to Governing Magazine & Newsletters
Follow us on Facebook / Twitter / LinkedIn

FEATURED STORY FOR APRIL 4, 2017

Law and the New Order: A Fresh Wave of District Attorneys Is Redefining Justice

Cities and counties across the country recently elected reform-minded DAs who are taking a more strategic approach to prosecutors' typical tough-on-crime policies.

ADVERTISEMENT

Sponsor: NASCIO

LATEST GOVERNING NEWS & COMMENTARY

23 PERCENT PODCAST

The First -- and Still Only -- African-American Elected to a County Office in Minnesota

Since taking office more than a decade ago, Toni Carter has made her mark on Ramsey County.

VOICES OF THE GOVERNING INSTITUTE

Trumping the Transportation Progress Our Cities Need

The president's spending proposals would derail the networks that are key to our economic growth.

LATEST WEB HEADLINES

HEALTH & HUMAN SERVICES

- Pre-Abortion Ultrasound Requirement Ruled Unconstitutional in Indiana
- On Medicaid Expansion, Kansas Lawmakers Try and Fail to Override Governor's Veto

PUBLIC SAFETY & JUSTICE

- Sessions Orders Review of Every Police Reform Agreement
- Florida Governor Removes Prosecutor Opposed to Death Penalty From 21 Murder Cases
- Want to Make Roads Safer? License Immigrants, Finds New Study
- New Jersey Legislature Sues Gov. Christie Over New Gun Law

NEWS IN NUMBERS

3

States where the average personal income declined from 2015 to 2016. They were Alaska, North Dakota and Wyoming.

MORE

WHO SAID THAT?

"I feel like [Democrats] are becoming like the Tea Party. If we are starting to have purity tests amongst ourselves, then we're never going to gain back those working-class and lower-income people that we are building a progressive movement for."

MORE

Unsubscribe | Opt out of all e.Republic email | Privacy Statement
© 2017 e.Republic. All rights reserved. 100 Blue Ravine Road, Folsom, CA 95630. Phone: 916-932-1300